

PSYCHOLOGY

Students will be inspired to:

- Become inquisitive about and explore the many facets of human behavior.
- Analyse and interpret concepts, theories and contemporary research studies into human behaviour
- Engage in wider and independent reading, seeking out their own information

Our curriculum will give students the opportunities to

- Consider various explanations of human behaviour – biology, evolution, upbringing.
- Design and take part in practical activities to further their understanding of the scientific process when applied to human beings.
- Engage in challenging lessons designed to cover all aspects of the exam syllabus but also generate a love of the subject.
- Develop a range of skills, transferrable to other subjects and the work place.

Impact will be evidenced in

- Student's ability to recall information but more importantly to apply this knowledge to unfamiliar exam questions and scenarios.
- High retention of students to the A Level course
- Above target grades in final exams
- Movement of some students into related university courses and careers.
