

ABOUT ME

My name is Carole.
I used to go to Headlands and I went on to be head of History.

ABOUT MY JOB

I was head of History and head of Year 7 at a private school. I taught Year 7 to Year 13, preparing students for Oxbridge.

I am also an examiner for OCR.

I have also been a County Commissioner ofr Girlguiding UK from 2009 to 2014. I have served on the Council for Girlguiding UK in London, having represented them abroad on several occasions, and been to Buckingham Palace in this role. None of this would have been possible without the education I received from Headlands.

SCHOOL RESULTS

I left Headlands in 1968 with three A-Levels (D, E, E). I had failed my 11+ so passing three A-Levels was a huge achievement.

FAVOURITE MEMORIES

I moved to Headlands in Year 10 and by year 13, I was head girl. It made me.

I also remember the friends I made and the brilliant, kind staff.

WHAT I DID NEXT

I went to St John's College in York because I wanted to teach, and then did a degree at the University of Leeds.

MY ADVICE TO STUDENTS

Go for it!

A careers advisor told me I would never be able to teach above primary school level, but I ignored them. If you want it, go for it!
