

ABOUT ME

My name is Jane.
I used to go to Headlands and now I am a hotel manager in Germany.

ABOUT MY JOB

I manage a medium-sized hotel in Germany.

The work includes managing the housekeeping and café team, ordering food and beverages, room reservations, controlling and managing availability over the internet, managing the hotel website, cost control, bookkeeping, guest relations - absolutely everything to run a hotel to its optimum and maintain guest satisfaction.

Throughout my career, I gained experience in big hotels in London with 700-900 rooms in reception, reservations, conference and banqueting departments and duty management.

SCHOOL RESULTS

I left Headlands in 1985 with seven O Levels.

FAVOURITE MEMORIES

Just being at school amongst friends, enjoyable lessons, good teachers (I still have contact with a lot of my school friends and some teachers from Headlands on Facebook).

WHAT I DID NEXT

I went to Beverley College to study Hotel Reception and Bookkeeping.

MY ADVICE TO STUDENTS

Learn as much as you can at school, (you will realise later it was probably the best time of your life).

Try your best and you will never know when you may need what you learnt at school again.
