Message from Mrs Stamford

Thank you to all of our Year 10 parents and carers who came to our progress evening last night. We hope you found the evening useful and we thank you for your support.

On Monday our Year 11 students took part in their mock interviews which gave the students valuable insight into the requirements of an actual job interview and what skills employers are looking for in today's market. The feedback from both employers and students was overwhelmingly positive and we wholeheartedly thank the employers who took time out to support this event.

Following on from that, this afternoon we have held our Year 11 mock results afternoon. It was lovely to see lots of smiling faces and we can't wait to build on this success as we continue through the journey with our students.

A reminder that the last day of term is Friday 19 December. School will finish at 12:05pm for all students and this day will be "wear a jumper" day.

We are raising money for the Salvation Army and donations can be made via the Scopay app for those students choosing to wear a jumper. The jumper can be a festive jumper but does not have to be. However, the jumper does need to be appropriate with no offensive language on display please.

Mrs Bone's Newsflash

This week Mr Woolley (Associate Deputy Head) has led Assemblies on student's active engagement in lessons.

Leading the students Mr Woolley encouraged year groups to "Think, Pair and Share" in response to a question about how two students' learning experiences differed in a lesson and why - asking them to consider this. Students then actively took part in a choral response to his questioning - modelling how brilliantly they can all participate in learning. Continuing to foster a great climate for learning here at Headlands School is part of our core business and it has been fantastic to witness how willing and eager all our students are to rise to the challenge.

The Senior Team and I have begun our termly Academic Report Review Meetings this week with individual students - again it has been wonderful to meet with Year 7 and discuss their first term's progress and "Best Bits." For all students this is most importantly an opportunity to check-in with them in terms of their well-being and make sure they are accessing the right level of support in school. Students are also asked about their career goals and it never ceases to amaze the Senior Team and I how creative students are with their future ambitions.

Next week is our Rewards Assembly week when we all come together and celebrate another successful Autumn Term,

Have a good weekend
